INTRODUCTION

The tourism sector is a sector with great potential to generate foreign exchange. Wahab (2003) in Suwarjo (2020) said Tourism is one of the new industrial styles, which can provide rapid economic growth in employment opportunities, direct public acceptance and activate other production sectors in tourist-receiving countries. However, it cannot be denied that the tourism sector has experienced a decline in income because, in the last 2 years, it has received the impact of Covid-19 so the number of foreign tourists visiting Indonesia has decreased.

Based on data collected by the (Badan Pusat Statistik, 2021), there has been a drastic decrease in the number of foreign tourists visiting Indonesia since February 2020. Overall, the total number of foreign tourist arrivals from January to May 2020 reached 2.9 million visits, a decrease of 53.36% compared to the previous year which reached 6.3 million visits. In June 2020, the number of foreign tourist visits reached 160.3 thousand visits. This figure decreased by 88.8% compared to June 2019 which reached 434.1 thousand visits. Meanwhile, when compared to May 2020, there was a decrease of 2% from 163.3 thousand visits.

Indonesia's tourism competitiveness index according to the World Economy Forum (WEF) also shows encouraging progress, where Indonesia's ranking rose from 50th in 2015 to 42nd in 2017. In 2017, the growth of the tourism sector accelerated by 22%, ranking second after Vietnam. (29%). In the same year, the average growth in the tourism sector in the world was 6.4%, and 7% in ASEAN. The strengthening of the “Wonderful Indonesia” branding has also continued to be encouraged where during the period 2016 to March 2019 it managed to get 150 awards. The charm of Indonesian tourism is famous because it has unique characteristics. Indonesia has thousands of tourist destinations, including those that are well-known and those that are still not fully utilized optimally.

In tourism development, the village is one of the most important and strategic positions to be developed. Of course, the development of village tourism will provide real benefits for improving people’s lives from an economic and income perspective. Communities can manage lodging places, and services (transportation or information), create stalls and others to increase income and reduce unemployment rates in the village. According to (Masitah, 2019) the emergence of tourist villages in the tourism sector can provide a new alternative for tourists to carry out tourism activities not only to enjoy the beauty of nature but to be able to study and introduce the life and activities of rural communities directly.

Based on the phenomenon above, tourism in Tarumajaya Village is one of the tourist attractions that has not been fully utilized optimally so the number of tourists who come is still relatively low. The lack of marketing through digital media either in the form of creative videos or creating campaigns to attract tourists to know the natural charm and educational tours that Tourism Villages have

According to a report from the research institute Wyzowl, where there is an increasing trend in the use of video as a product or service marketing strategy. The video used can be in the form of animation, live-action, or other recordings. At the beginning of 2023, 91% of respondents chose video as a product marketing method, an increase from the previous year which reached 86%. The trend of using video marketing has increased significantly in 2018 with the figure reaching 81%. However, there was a decrease in usage in 2019-2020, from 87% to 85%.

The research team concluded that video will continue to be a widely used marketing tool trusted by around 9 out of 10 companies or lines of business. However, it cannot be denied that the human resources owned by Tarumajaya Village do not follow trends on social media so they cannot explore existing trends more and follow the fast path of current trends which are still not sufficient.

The Tarumajaya BUMDesa Tourism Business Unit is still promoting through the website and Instagram only and has not been consistent in making promotions either in the form of video content or being active on various social media such as Tiktok, Instagram, or Facebook ads that display beautiful natural panoramas. By not taking advantage of the platform that already exists and is widely used by the community, it will not increase tourists who will know about tourist destinations in Tarumajaya Village.
In the end, only local people or tourists who know tourist destinations from other people’s recommendations will come.

Tourists coming to tourist villages have decreased especially when there is a pandemic, all tourism has had such a big impact not only on tourist attractions but also on the MSME owner community around tourism and human resources managing Tarumajaya Village Tourism.

In an interview with Mr. Entep as the Director of BUMDesa Tarumajaya, he said that tourism in Tarumajaya had not fully recovered and still needed more attention, especially on the number of tourists which had to be increased so that financial circulation could run well. This is focused on the welfare of managers and in improving services, cleanliness and infrastructure that will be provided at tourist attractions. BUMDesa managers are well aware that there are still many things that need to be improved in terms of infrastructure. As explained by (Inskeep, 1991) in Tri Risandewi (2017), one of the basic infrastructure that is considered important to support the sustainability of tourism development activities is the provision of adequate transportation infrastructure. The transportation infrastructure in question is not only in the form of roads but various other infrastructure facilities that are still related to transportation, for example parking lots, modes of transportation and various other infrastructure facilities. However, the unstable tourists who visit make tourism hampered. Therefore the researcher is interested in conducting an effective business strategy study and conducting further analysis regarding the factors that are obstacles to the digital transformation of the Tarumajaya Village Tourism Business Unit, including financing constraints, lack of training and education related to digital knowledge capabilities for human resources in Tarumajaya Village Tourism Business Unit to further improve tourism performance.

When viewed from the problems faced by the Tarumajaya Village Tourism Business Unit, this business model can be an important step in designing a new business strategy for the unit. Researchers believe that this approach is the most suitable method for mapping and describing the condition of the company so that it can develop and progress. In this study, researchers will use the Smart Business Map to propose business development for the Tarumajaya Village Tourism Business Unit.

The approach that will be used in this study will focus on the SBM components, especially on the Playing Field, Market Landscape, and Operational Profitability components mentioned earlier. Through this research, it is hoped that more adaptive business concepts and strategies can be developed using the SBM Board for the Tarumajaya Village Tourism Business Unit. The following is a Smart Business Map table based on the SBM Board.

Based on the description above, the researcher is interested in conducting research with the title "Analysis of Business Development Strategies Using Smart Business Map in BUMDesa Wa Hyang Tarumajaya Tourism Business Unit". Identification of the problem in this research is: What is the Smart Business Map (SBM) based business strategy for the Tarumajaya Village Tourism Business Unit in terms of Playing Field, Market Landscape and Operational Profitability?

RESEARCH METHOD

According to (Hadi & Supardi, 2020), an inductive approach is carried out by comparing sources that are relevant to the research focus. This inductive analysis technique is a data analysis approach that begins with certain factors and then general conclusions are drawn. The data used in this study are primary data obtained from oral interviews with respondents and secondary data obtained through literature study, observation, and documentation.

This study focuses on describing aspects related to the observed phenomena. The results of descriptive research can be the basis for making business decisions or as a step toward solving business problems. Descriptive research is used to describe or analyze a research result without a tendency to conclude from the research results (Sugiyono, 2017). With this method, the implementation is usually less structured. Information found on the site is processed and interpreted to produce research results. This method can also be called an interpretation method (Sugiyono, 2017).
